When A Cabot Loves A Kelly

BEGIN IT TODAY

"You wouldn't understand! G'night, Sir!" says Mickey Kelly to Sheila, and goes off to bed, little knowing that his sister has risked her own safety that night to save him from possible harm at Gus Morrick's hands.

CHAPTER 12

SHEILA stared at the closed door, rubbing her bruised lips, felt tentatively of her shoulders, as if to make sure they were still in place after that vehement embrace.

"The brute!" she said, fighting back tears of rage. "A kiss-and-run man, too! What does he think I am—a Holy Cross backslider?"

She tipped to the door, opened it a little. She half expected to see Jerry outside, preparing to come back and apologize. But she saw only the empty, dim-lit street. Her lips framed his name.

"Jerry!" Then, incredulously—"He's gone."

In that moment, Sheila knew Jerry O'Donovan had meant what he said. And, stripped of all the rest, she knew what

STALEMATE NAMED FOR FARMER COURT

Farnum in Race for Governor

George R. Farnum, Beacon Hill lawyer who probed Boston affairs in numerous finance commission investigations, will be candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Massachusetts next summer, it was learned today on good authority.

The former assistant U. S. attorney, his friends revealed, will campaign as the "father of Massachusetts," placing much emphasis on the part of his long career in light-aiding investigations of Boston city hall.

Farnum seeks to clean out the party of the "highhouse" district, his friends declared.

OPPOSES PARKMAN

His candidacy places him in direct opposition to the Republican group headed by Henry Parkman, Jr., Eugene C. Hallinan and William A. Harte.

The task of rebuilding the party cannot be successfully raised through the "highhouse," Farnum's friends declared.

75,000 Union Men Praise American

Boston Central Labor Group Endorses Price Increase as Fair to All

Boston Central Labor Union, composed of representatives of more than 75,000 workers of the city, today announced its endorsement of The Boston Evening American's new price.

The Central Union, which came during its meeting at Calumet Hall last night, when the following resolution was passed: "WHEREAS the cost of producing a newspaper today is much greater than it ever was in the history of the newspaper business due to the increase in wages, freight, etc., and

"WHEREAS in order to continue operation with all the players at present employed on the Boston American, the Boston American has found it necessary to increase the price from two to three cents, and

"WHEREAS the labor movement believes in a living wage and just conditions as compensation, and

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Boston Central Labor Union at its meeting assembled in Calumet Hall on Friday, January 14, 1938, endorse the above action of the increase by the Boston American."

Alvin P. Friedman, secretary-treasurer of the Newspaper Guild, Boston District and Boston Union No. 229 of Boston, presented the resolution.

"While many industries, the newspaper business cannot control the price of its product," Friedman said in explaining the resolution. "Building increases in the cost of white paper have been forced by Canadian manufacturers.

"Instead of considering routes and cutting down the presswork, the Boston American has chosen to protect its workers by adopting the three-cent price rate."

"The Boston American's decision corresponds to the policy of the United States standards of wages and living despite the current action in business."

The body of Mrs. Mabel Galloway, a widow of Quincy street, Roxbury, was found covered with snow today, clumped against the wall of the Mission Hill playground.

Police were ordered whether the victim was a part of her clothing which was found a few feet from the body.

John Dillon and Patrick J. Goodie, two police department employees, discovered the body when they failed to locate a woman who had been a bag of rage, almost completely covered with snow.

The well-known victim, the victim lay in the rear of the Mission Hill playground and a few feet from Tremont street.

Tax Revision Is Urged by Treasury

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Treasury today approved immediate tax revision and at the same time Undersecretary Roswell Magill revealed plans for a future, sweeping revision of the entire tax system.

The Treasury's move was made before the House Ways and Means committee on finance, pending the revision of the undistributed profits tax, capital gains tax, and other taxes to be introduced.

In the absence of Secretary of the Treasury, Magill disclosed the administration's plans to make sweeping revision of the profits and capital gains tax.

While the sub-committee, proposed modification to reduce the equities and stimulate business, Magill vigorously opposed such a revision of either the profits or capital gains tax.

The proposal for a future, sweeping revision of the entire tax system, which is a major step, was made today, pending the revision of the undistributed profits tax, capital gains tax, and other taxes to be introduced.

Knickerbocker to Tell 'Inside' on Oriental War

What is the destiny of the United States in the coming inevitability of the next great war?

What is the fate of the interests of white nations in the Orient?

How near are Russia and Japan to war—and what is the likely outcome?

These questions and others of similar grave import to every individual in the United States are answered by H. R. Knickerbocker, world-famous International News Service correspondent, in a series of articles to start in the Boston Evening American on Monday, January 17.

High Honor President's Choice For High Court

STANLEY REED

There is some expectation that when he may have to fill another seat on the court since it is believed that the serious illness of Justice Benjamin Cardozo may necessitate his resignation.

Reed has long been regarded as a possible appointee to the Supreme Court. His name was mentioned often in association with Van Devanter's successor.

What then the nomination would be made today spread through the capital a few minutes before it was presented to the Senate by Maurice C. Latta, White House executive clerk.

IN MANY COLLEGES

Reed was born at Myrtle Beach, S. C., in 1884 and practiced law there after studying in Kentucky, Virginia, Columbia, and the University of Pennsylvania.

As a student he had a reputation for being a "bookworm" and a "nerd."

Pacific Sailors Reject CIO, 5-1 in Poll

Union Votes to Stay
Independent, Vote
Largest Ever

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 (INR)—Endorsement of the leadership of Harry Lundeberg and defeat of the CIO were disclosed today as results of the near-wide referendum of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific. The entire slate of Lundeberg candidates was elected by a landslide majority, while the CIO failed to place a single officer.

The candidates had all taken their stands on the subject of affiliation, and the trend of the election was a definite commitment by the union that it intends to remain independent of both CIO and A.F. of L.

The vote was one of the largest ever cast in the union's history, larger than that of last year, despite the fact that at that time the entire membership was ashore with the strike while this year, many members were at sea or in foreign ports.

Lundeberg was retained as secretary-treasurer of the union by a majority of more than 100 to one. The vote was 2406 for Lundeberg, 10 for Harry Mayer, CIO candidate.

I. T. U. Chief Denies Change in Attitude

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—Charles F. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union and secretary of the CIO, in a telegram to John L. Lewis today denied that he had changed his attitude in opposition to certain actions of the American Federation of Labor.

"We have waited for some dispatches under New York terms, in which I am reported to have changed my attitude," his telegram read in part.

Howard pointed out in the telegram that the I. T. U. would not accept the A. F. of L. amendments, passed at the Denver (Colo.) convention which "attempt to centralize authority in the A. F. of L."

Ask Canada Aid Wife Search

Police of Nova Scotia were asked today to aid in the search for Mrs. Elizabeth A. Gault, 28, missing from her husband's home in Halifax, N.S., after she failed to return from a trip to the United States.

The young wife was reported as a possible victim of a kidnapping by her husband, John. He said she might have wandered to Canada to join her mother in the town where she was born.

She was last seen when she left the home to go to work in a Seaside Square restaurant.

A recent accident might have caused a lapse of memory, her husband reported.

Wins New Trial At Prison Gates

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 15 (INR)—Just as he was about to enter the State of Illinois penitentiary, a former St. Paul attorney today had a new chance to fight conviction on a charge of plotting to wreck a $11,000,000 insurance company.

Deputy Sheriff Patrick Keenan had just reached the prison with the attorney, Abraham Karatz, when the man was stopped by a guard who served him with papers commanding him to bring the lawyer before Circuit Judge Edwin Wilson here.

2 More Face Court In 'Bookies' Drive

Two more alleged "bookies" were held today following a raid on the "bookie" racket in the city of Boston.

Harvey B. 32, of Forest Street, West End, was taken into custody on Cambridge Street, West End, while Benjamin Reed, 32, of South Street, South End, was arrested in Jamaica Plain.

Both were charged with being concerned in a lottery.

LELAND BICKFORD

Leland C. Bickford, whose accusations against state senators have created a storm in political circles, shown seated in chair at State House after his encounter with Rep. Bacigalupo.

The latter is shown in insert. In the one-round battle, Bickford emerged a victor, according to "ring-side" spectators.

Ann Hewitt, Husband Part for Second Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 (AP)—In a copyrighted story the Chronicle said today, Ann Cooper Hewitt, 25-year-old sterilized female, had separated for the second time with a month from her bigamous husband.

Her husband, Howard, 30, a 30-year-old garage foreman, has returned to his mother's home in Oakland, across San Francisco Bay, while the young female remains in her fashionable 20th Hill apartment.

Adding divorce was a possibility, she was quoted by the Chronicle as saying.

"I have been a husband and at the same time a stranger in her home."

"Two things brought our happiness to an end. One was my unwillingness to trust and the other was her unwillingness to make me her complete possession."

Ann's mother never meant anything to me, and it never will be. I had more money than when I married Ann."

Miss Hewitt underwent a sterilization operation in 1934, she charged it was intended to insure her mother control of the Hewitt fortune. Two San Francisco surgeons were tried and acquitted of mayhem charges. Her mother, Mrs. J. C. Hewitt, was never brought to trial.

Flies 1000 Miles To Ill Son

Sped 1000 miles by airplane, Lawrence (Pat) Smith, 34, of Westwood, Mass., high school teacher, flew to his home in the city of Boston to see his 10-year-old son, who is ill with pneumonia at High Point, N. C.

There was little change in the youngster's condition as his father and mother waited for the "cure" to be reached. The boy had been in the hospital for 10 days when he was taken to the South.

There is little chance of his recovery, said a doctor at the hospital, and the father is now in the city of Boston.

It was the first air flight he had ever made and the charged plane flew from Portland, Me., airport to the southern town.

Doctors at Bureau Memorial Hospital, reported "little change" today in the boy's condition, but that the crisis would be reached within 24 hours.

ELISE ROBINSON, writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

Downs Head Raps Bacigalupo Charge

Denies Race Course in Plot to Ruin
Dog Tracks in Bay State

State House charges of "conspiracy" to ruin dog racing by collusion of horse track interests and the Colonial radio network were branded early today as "absolutely false" by James Linnahan, manager of Suffolk Downs horse track.

Obviously incensed by statements of Representative Edward C. Bacigalupo, who filed an order for a legislative investigation of such charges, Linnahan added:

"I don't know where Mr. Bacigalupo could have obtained any such information. I never had any dealings with the dog track, and I never had any dealings with the dog track, and I never had any dealings with the dog track."

The Bacigalupo order was an outgrowth of the fact that at the State House it which Leland C. Bickford, news commentator for the radio network, was returned the victor over the union.

A bitter battle between horse racing and dog racing interests in the state issued as an outgrowth of attacks made on legislators by Bickford's claims. Senate votes could be bought.

Framed What'd I Do to Rate This?

Legal history was in the making today in Suffolk court where an ordinary house cat played the silent but chief witness role in a dispute, by two Saguas housecats, over ownership.

The house pet, which caused police and finally court action, was ordered by Judge Charles E. Flynn to be produced in court.

The complainant is Miss Flora Cahill, of 20 Lincoln Avenue, who claims the cat belongs to her, she charges it is her family's pet and that a neighbor, Mrs. Dexter G. Pratt, has refused to return the animal.

Mrs. Pratt, wife of a former assistant of public works, appeared in court, as did Judge Flynn, to appear in court with the cat.

Police said Mrs. Cahill's complaint charged that a cat girl had poked up the cat and taken it to the Pratt home, from which it never has been returned.

Afterwards, the cat was taken to the Pratt home, from which it never has been returned, although a somewhat similar case was settled when owners were told to take the animal in court.

The court then judged the cat, as it was, to be the Pratt's, and the case was closed.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

"Washington Merry-Go-Round," by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen, brightly and informally column on the inside activities of political Washington, is now a daily feature of the Boston Evening American. It will also appear in the Boston Sunday Advertiser every Sunday.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN
(Editor's Note: Hugh R. Wilson, newly appointed Ambassador to Germany, gets the Brown Ring and a free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round today after 27 years in the U. S. Foreign Service.)

WASHINGTON—When President Roosevelt sent the name of Hugh R. Wilson to the Senate for confirmation as ambassador to Germany, he gave that gentleman one of the highest honors ever extended to a career diplomat.

Also he showed that a little push, correct manner, a good deal of bridge, plus a fair amount of intelligence and a large amount of money, pay excellent diplomatic dividends. This combination took Hugh Wilson to the top of the diplomatic ladder.

Since the President now is following a policy of rewarding career diplomats, and since the wage scale of the same is a fair one, it is not surprising that the President is putting the name of Hugh Wilson to the top of the diplomatic ladder.

CAREER CLIMAX—Hugh Wilson is a very cultured, likable gentleman of 53, who looks more like a "bank man" than an ambassador. He was a Chicago steel manufacturer, he was given the advanced degree of education at Yale and in Paris.

Afterward he spent three years in the father's steel business and at the age of 35 became a partner in the American Machine and Tool Company, which was then a small business.

During the 27 years that followed, Wilson's career was a steady climb. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the American Machine and Tool Company, and he was a member of the Board of Directors of the American Machine and Tool Company.

Bonnet Blocked In Efforts to Form Cabinet

Sarrault Is Expected to Be Next Leader for French Crisis

PARIS, Jan. 15 (AP)—Determined Socialist opposition today blocked the efforts of Georges Bonnet, Radical-Socialist premier-designate, to reform France's shattered People's Front into a government under his leadership.

Leon Blum, leader of the Socialists and head of the original People's Front government, flatly told Bonnet his party could not support a cabinet formed to carry out Bonnet's conservative solution for the grave labor and economic troubles that forced Premier Camille Chautouque to resign.

Bonnet's government continued efforts to whip enough parliamentary support into line to tell President Leclercq he had succeeded in forming a new government.

SARRAULT NEXT CHOICE

He scheduled a talk with Edouard Daladier, Radical-Socialist defense minister, between conferences with Rene Brunet, financial under-secretary, and former Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour, leader of the new Socialist and Republican Union party.

In the corridors of the Chamber of Deputies it was said frankly that Bonnet's cabinet formation might fail because of opposition by Communists and Socialists and perhaps by half the Radical-Socialists.

The three parties make up the People's Front.

Since Bonnet's success under such a coalition was considered impossible, Albert Sarrault, a Radical-Socialist, was considered the next choice for cabinet formation.

LABOR WAR SPECULATIONS

The day after tomorrow, it was said, Bonnet began his cabinet formation.

Among the new labor difficulties, Bonnet's cabinet formation might fail because of opposition by Communists and Socialists and perhaps by half the Radical-Socialists.

U. S.-British Pact Set for Far East

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON (International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—American participation in a four-power naval demonstration next month at Singapore, Britain's monthly "Glasgow" of the Far East, was reported today to be based on "definite understanding" for Anglo-American co-operation in any future crisis arising out of the Sino-Japanese war.

The revelation came as the State Department announced two new projects had been ordered by Japan over testing of American property at Nanking, China's abandoned capital, by increasing Japanese troops.

Authorities have viewed the long as a direct violation of Japan's solemn pledge to guarantee American interests in China.

President Roosevelt's decision to send the cruiser Trenton, Milwaukee and Memphis to Singapore, found Congress privately approving the action but reluctant to disburse the money.

One noted authority told International News Service: "This move publicly discloses a definite understanding between the United States and Britain for cooperation—possibly joint action—in any future crisis, provoked by Japan's attacks upon neutrals in China."

The three cruisers, along with the heavy armored cruiser, Louisville, are now spending from Honolulu to Sydney, Australia, to participate in Australian exercises.

Louisville will remain in Australian waters for several weeks, visiting ports there, while the other three make the 5000 mile run up to Singapore.

as he has uncovered no clue to the identity. Long, equipped with cash and registered mail, collected by Dr. Thomas Maloney in West Newton, Australia and New York City.

Today the six crack department searched the street immediately after the robbery. Long said the point would be concentrated on determining where the truck was taken before it was abandoned.

All attempts at the Newtonville postoffice and the other three involved will be questioned, Brekin said.

Meanwhile, the only definite clue was the recovered truck, which was carefully examined for fingerprints.

The truck was found abandoned in Parkway road, a nearby dead-end street, two hours after the robbery.

Wait New Move By Hurley in Stone Row

May Submit Report
Of Commission to Legislature

Governor Hurley today asked a stenographer's record of a conference with Judge Arthur P. Stone and his counsel, Robert T. Mahoney, before deciding on future action against the judge in connection with the release of Edward Long, an ally of Edward L. Bremer.

It is probable that if the governor finds the Chamberlain judge's extensive investigation, he will submit the report of his special investigating commission to the Legislature along with his own conclusions.

Meanwhile Judge Stone, through Mahoney, former Illinois attorney at law, is making a strenuous effort to get the governor to drop the charges. He said the governor should not be misled by the press.

Attorney General P. A. Doyle and Assistant Attorney General James J. Ryan also attended the conference.

The governor's special commission had been created by the legislature last year to investigate the release of Long, whose estate he held in trust. Subsequently Long was convicted of selling a New Hampshire boy and was under death sentence in that state.

In a space that resembles a chorus dressing room at the Emerson College girls' class in makeup, the instructor, Robert Burnham, is teaching a class of 18 girls. The girls are dressed in simple, dark dresses, and the instructor is standing at the front of the class, gesturing towards a mirror.

"The skill," explained Robert Burnham, instructor of makeup, "provides the basic bone structure of each make-up must be found."

Burnham, former American Express man, is the instructor. He is a man of about 40, with dark hair and a mustache. He is wearing a dark suit and tie. He is standing at the front of the class, gesturing towards a mirror.

"The first year class in makeup sticks to color and line," said Burnham. "They learn all about skin and shadows and must keep in mind the fact that their makeup is designed to appear as if it were made by a professional."

In their second year they work with form, which means physically altering the features by means of make-up, eye-liner, and so on.

"The first year class in makeup sticks to color and line," said Burnham. "They learn all about skin and shadows and must keep in mind the fact that their makeup is designed to appear as if it were made by a professional."

In their second year they work with form, which means physically altering the features by means of make-up, eye-liner, and so on.

Applies for New General Rate On Gas

On Gas
No Change in the Initial Charge

A new general rate for domestic and commercial use of gas has been applied by the State Department of Public Utilities by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

The new rate is intended to place three existing rates which now cover the sale of gas for general domestic use, general commercial use and automatic water heating. All three rates will be changed in effect at present, including the home heating, light heating and industrial rates, will not be affected.

First Step Unchanged
The first step of the proposed new rate will be the same as the first step of the present general domestic rate. This is the rate for the first 100 cubic feet of gas.

For the first 100 cubic feet of gas, the rate will be 60 cents per 100 feet. For the following 100 feet, the rate will be 10 cents per 100 feet.

Thereafter, the rate decreases in a line with the rate for 100 feet for amounts of 100,000 feet or over.

"The rate proposed is a progressive rate," said E. J. Farnsworth, president of Boston Consolidated Gas Company. "It is designed to encourage and promote greater use of gas, as well as provide needed additional revenue to the company."

Dispute Avoided
There will be no change in the first step or initial charge of the new rate compared with the one now in force. This has been arranged by the company.

In order to avoid the controversy which arose in previous rate proposals when a higher initial charge was sought.

Some of the middle steps of the new rate are higher than corresponding steps in the old rate. On the other hand, customers who use gas for several purposes and require more of it will get it at less cost. This is especially true of customers with larger houses.

Merchandise Is Next,
Sale Tax Foe Says

Merchandise bottling and in general, the sale of goods for use in the home, is the next target of the tax foe.

It was seen by Senator Theodore D. Driscoll of Adams that the sale of goods for use in the home is the next target of the tax foe.

The state senate passed the measure which would increase the tax on the sale of goods for use in the home.

After strongly condemning the measure, Driscoll said that if it were enacted into law, the state would be definitely marked in the eyes of the nation.

He struck and strongly at the measure of the gasoline tax, which would increase the tax on the sale of goods for use in the home.

2 Men Lost, Ship Rides Out Gale

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—After battling a storm during which two members of the crew reportedly were swept to their deaths, the Greek steamship, Aspasia, today reported it was out of danger in the Atlantic.

A wireless message received five hours after the steamer was last sighted, said it had the ship's two missing crew members.

The Aspasia's second message reported the steamer was in danger of being wrecked on the rocks of the Greek island of Rhodes.

Japs Brew War; May Involve U. S.

Knickerbocker's First Expose In Evening American Monday

Japs want to fight Soviet Russia, and the Japanese navy is ready to take on Great Britain and America. A general conflagration is brewing from the Far Eastern holocaust. Will Germany attack Russia and what will Poland do?

H. R. Knickerbocker, the noted traveling correspondent of the International News Service, set forth the latest of his amazing theories and a myriad other questions of world import to the United States and the world.

He traveled 12,500 miles from Shanghai to Paris. He made his way into Vladivostok—the first newspaperman to enter the armed Soviet port in ten years.

OCEANS NO BARRIERS
He journeyed past the Japanese, Russian and Canadian frontiers, across the Siberian wastes and through Germany and Poland to find the answers.

"We should not make the mistake," he said, "of believing that the Pacific and Atlantic oceans are sufficient to protect the United States. It has become increasingly plain that our policy can restrain the war-makers, but superior force."

In Vladivostok, Knickerbocker found the Red army and navy fully equipped, flanked by an imposing submarine fleet and air armaments of staggering proportions.

FIRST ARTICLE MONDAY
On the frontiers of Manchuria and Mongolia, he found a force undisciplined war, with no discipline, with no discipline, with no discipline.

From the wealth of information he gathered, he will set forth his journey in a series of articles.

These articles of world import to America and the world will appear exclusively in the Evening American, next Monday.

HADEN SUPPORT SEEN
Support of John W. Haden of Greenfield, unsuccessful Republican candidate against Governor Hurley in the last election, is expected for Farnum. Haden, who has thousands of votes in the western part of the state.

Farnum, who has never held elective office, is viewed as a strong candidate. Of Irish blood on his mother's side through his father to his cousin, Mayflower ancestry.

He served in Washington as assistant U. S. attorney general, the Chicago and Hoover administration.

MADE CITY PROBES
The conduct of the investigation of the Codman Hill Construction Company, charged with receiving favors from the trustees of the George. H. Baker, was later found to have brought him again into the city.

Previously he attained the high position of chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

FREQUENT ROWS
During his service as special investigator for the finance commission, he was in frequent hot water with members of the commission.

His investigation of land takings in the North End Project and the East Boston Traffic Tunnel, and his services in winning a decision against Deane won him the "Bobby" label in Boston.

Farnum lives at 101 Chestnut Hill, and has law offices at 4 State street. He is a graduate of Boston University Law School.

He worked his way up by a summer job as treasurer on the Boston Main Railroad.

Slain in Quarrel Over Snowball

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. Jan. 15.—A five-hour fight after he went to a neighbor's house to remonstrate over an injury suffered by his young daughter by a snowball.

Frank Baine, 41, a factory worker, died today of a gunshot wound.

The shooting, the police said, took place in a house owned by Michael Johnson, 24, and his brother, James, 20, who were visiting.

According to Sergeant Daniel Cavanaugh, Johnson said he saw Baine throw a snowball at his daughter.

Speaking of France

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

French politics have collapsed like a tornado folding an umbrella. The premier has quit, the cabinet has quit and the franc has sent in its notice. The reason the French don't like grapes is because they never do anything by halves.

If the franc keeps slipping the French will be glad to welcome back the A. E. F. with its tobacco coupons. At least they were good for vacuum cleaners, floor lamps and fishing rods.

The franc is now 323 and moving rapidly to the right. It never did feel happy on both sides of a decimal point.

TALTON ENMESHED IN LAW'S MACHINERY

SHEILA'S NIGHTMARE. Events of thrill-filled day have their effect on Sheila as she sleeps beside her sister Patsy. She awakens as four Jerry O'Donovans arrest her on a charge of not having her Beacon street license. Her dreams reflect her concern for Bradford Talton, under arrest as result of wild ride in her behalf. As Sheila sleeps, Brad is in trouble.

seph J. Fahey, Jerry, Brad Talton and Professional Bondsman Maurice Victor who furnished the money necessary for the release of the young student, arrested for speeding.

MICKEY AND PATSY (Mickey in light overcoat) are shown walking at junction of Broadway and Dorchester street, South Boston. Both are popular there, Patsy being Claire Neville, Mickey none other than Dick Maloney, well known fighter. Those circled in photo are entitled to $5 award on calling at this office.

BRAD'S CHANCE TO HELP SHEILA. As lawyer and client, Jerry and Brad confer in Jerry's office at Barristers' Hall. Jerry tells Brad only Sheila's testimony can save him from prosecution. Will Brad refuse to drag Sheila's name into affair?

The Lady Hawkins and Tuscania Both
Leave Today

Sailings of two passenger ships for foreign ports today close the week-end sailings from this port.

Sailing from Commonwealth Pier, South Boston, is the Lady Hawkins, of the Canadian National Steamships Line for Bermuda and the British West Indies with a passenger limit of 92 from here. The Tusconia of the Anchor Line from New York, for Cobb, Belfast and Glasgow, leaves from Pier 4, East Boston, with a total of 106 boarding her at this port.

BERMUDA-ROUND

Bermuda-bound from Boston are: Mrs. H. W. Baxter, Bryant Butkhard and Mrs. Charles Carruth, accompanied by Miss A. K. Carruth, of Concord. To St. Lucia are going Mr. and Mrs. John J. Crain, Miss Josephine Douglass, Gordon Douglass, Gardner H. Niles and Mrs. William H. Kuhn. For Demerara, are bound Mr. and Mrs. William D. Davis, of Woburn, and Mrs. Bartlett Walton and Miss

Insuring the first sailing of the 1928 season from Boston, the Tuscania, of the Anchor Line, opens a regular service from Boston throughout the year between Ireland and Scotland. All ships of the line docking at Glasgow will maintain regular service to the ports of Londonderry, Belfast and Dublin, Ireland in addition to Cobh.

EMBARRASSING HERE

Embarking from Boston are Miss Julia A. Crowley and Miss Catherine P. Crowley, of Julien street, Dorchester, who are proceeding to London before making a tour of the Continent to settle the estate of a sister recently deceased. Mrs. H. Boykston Dummer, of Mt. Vernon street, Beacon Hill, is making a tour of the north of Ireland, and is visiting relatives in Scotland. From Dorchester, proceeding to Galway, are Mr. and Mrs. James Ridge, of Bailey street, Dorchester, with their two children James Jr. and Catherine.

Others from the Greater Boston area include Miss Johanna Lenane of Beachmont, Mrs. Mary Mac Waihtler and Miss Rose Mac Whirtler, of North Weymouth. From Worcester are John Boyle and Mrs. Agnes McFarland, proceeding to Belfast.

That Hunger for Romance!

Read in advance "TOO YOUNG TO MARRY," the novel which everybody will be talking about in 1933.

TOO YOUNG TO MARRY

Here is the first fearless, honest and utterly frank presentation in fiction of the confusing heart problems of youth today.

You'll find portrayed the girl who takes love where she finds it... the boy who can't afford marriage... the business girl whose pay check must care for two... the girl who gets "in trouble," and other young people who find their natural hunger for romance opposed by economics and other forces.

Bruins Supreme At Half Way Post

Shore's Comeback, Kid Line Did It

By BILL GRIMES

THE BRUINS, winning their half way game of the 1937-38 National Hockey season at the Garden tomorrow night with more goals than any other team in the Eastern Division, Los Angeles with 17 goals.

Only the Wings were the first to score in the first half, but there was no fanfare when they did, for the Bruins were not in the game. The Bruins were not in the game.

Danno Toughest Loser, Says Champion Robert

Predicts Bad Beating For Irishman at Garden Friday

Yvon Robert, world's heavy weight wrestling champion, declared he will defeat Dan O'Mahoney, who was defeated by Boston Garden last Friday night.

Danno is the toughest loser I ever knew, Robert said. I defeated him fairly in Montreal and then did the same thing here, he said, but each time Danno and his friends squawked to the high heavens that he was robbed.

Well, I'm going to beat him badly this time, that they'll stage a make afterword.

Sox Only A. L. Club to Show Attendance Drop

By JOE CASHMAN

There has been no reason in the past for the attendance drop at the Sox games, according to Will Harridge, president of the American League. And the "press" report of a drop in attendance is a "press" report, Harridge said. He said that the Sox are the only club in the league to show a drop in attendance. He said that the Sox are the only club in the league to show a drop in attendance.

It's not baseball to my way of thinking, Harridge said. The American League is not a baseball league, he said. He said that the Sox are the only club in the league to show a drop in attendance. He said that the Sox are the only club in the league to show a drop in attendance.

Business Leads Youth Movement

Changing Times Offer Opportunities For Men Still in Their Thirties

By NERVILLE STANLEY RUKESHER

International News Service Financial Writer

IN THE MIDDLE WEST, Jan. 15.—The changed tempo nationally is breeding a new generation of business leadership. Finding itself in a new order, which stresses modern concepts of social responsibility, American business is looking increasingly to young executives, who are in rapport with the prevailing tendencies.

Thus, in many important corporations there is a tendency to bypass men with fading vigor to give the reins to younger men. The changing times constitute a magnificent opportunity for men still in their thirties to enter the blue ribbon of American business and contribute to the nation's progress.

SIGN OF THE TIMES
The office of E. R. Steinhilber, Jr., vice president in the chairmanship of the United States Steel Corporation, the late John E. H. Galt, former president of the same company, is a sign of the times.

Work has been assigned to him in regard to the new group of men to the executive jobs has been taking place in this country. Chicago, for example, is proud of the youth movement in the field of the economic structure.

The youthful new leadership in Chicago includes an executive with much ability in his own right and who is following the lead of his father, who was a great executive of his own time.

Nex, 10 Years Away, Says Bullard

Generation That Does Not Know Horrors Must Grow First

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Lester K. Bullard, 17, U.S.A. retired, 27 years old today, says he does not see another major war in sight within ten or twenty years.

"All the nations that took an active part in the World War," said the wartime commander of the second American Army, "France, have a stomach full of war and aren't anxious for another war."

"Of course, there is always the possibility of nations being forced into war but it would take a great deal of forcing."

WAR-WEARY BAN WAR
Not even the saber-rattling of Hitler and Mussolini can shake the general conviction that, except for the greater part of the world, "it takes from 10 to 15 years to work up a great war," he declared.

"People who have once seen war don't want to see it again. It must wait until a generation comes along that does not know what war is."

"The nations now engaged in war," he pointed out, "are Spain, Japan and China. They are not active in the World War. Even Japan and China, though, are not fighting in that conflict."

GENERAL BULLARD REACHED
the last year of Europe's history of the 19th century. He is the great-grandson of the great-grandfather of the present major conflict, the Franco-Prussian War and the World War.

And between the Prussian War and the Napoleonic wars, the peace of Europe was disturbed only by the French Revolution. He said that only six weeks and the war of the Crimea, which also was a major conflict.

Bullard, only living American officer with the rank of lieutenant general, believes that the United States should be active in the world in the World War, but doing everything possible to avoid another major conflict.

"The Panay incident was a war," he said, "before our eyes. We saw the Japanese attack the Panay, which would assuredly have led to hostilities with Japan."

But today you could not drag this country into a war, except, of course, over some dreadful outrage."

Prohibition's Return Hinted

Amendment Author Raps 'Liquor Evil'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Senator Stephen D. Duggan, Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment, today said Congress would soon be called upon again to amend the prohibition law.

In his annual Senate address on the anniversary of the Eighteenth Amendment, Duggan declared:

"It is my conviction that this evil must be brought to an end."

"It will not be long before the people are becoming dissatisfied with the present prohibition law."

1 Killed, 2 Dying In Maine Crash

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 15.—One person is dead and two persons are dying today as a result of a head-on collision between an automobile and a truck on U.S. 101 here.

The collision occurred on the highway near the Lewiston-Libby line on the Lewiston-Bath highway.

Rogers, Yonah of Bath, driver of the automobile was instantly killed.

His wife and Edward, 14, are dying at St. Mary's hospital.

Police say the truck, owned by Mrs. Deane of Lewiston, passed an automobile on the hill and could not get back into its lane before meeting the Yonah car going in the opposite direction.

The latter said the truck was going in the opposite direction.

'Buy Wisely,' Women Asked

Federation's Drive Is Aimed at Slump

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs undertook today to enroll the women of the United States in a campaign to increase the national income. It is a campaign to "buy wisely" and combat the depression.

The recruiting job was turned over to Mrs. Roberta Campbell, president of the Federation, and Mrs. William D. Duggan, 22, U.S.A.

Mrs. Lawson, busy with her other duties, indicated the task would fall largely on the dynamic Mrs. Campbell, former president of the United States Federation of Women's Clubs.

The latter said the campaign would be aimed at teaching women to buy wisely.

The Editor Says:

In fact, the situation is such that Federal authorities only a few months ago called Boston one of the nation's major narcotic centers.

The sensible thing for legislators to do is to listen to Mr. Timilty and then to put teeth into our drug laws. A cell with granite walls and an iron door is the only proper place for the drug pedlar.
